Please read this section very carefully to determine if you need a CDL.

This manual includes the information needed to pass the Commercial Driver License (CDL) knowledge and skills test(s).

Although every effort has been made to ensure accuracy of this information, laws and procedures are subject to change. For exact wording of a law or specific guidelines, contact a Secretary of State branch office. All offices have a copy of the Michigan Vehicle Code which has traffic laws and regulations. Branch office personnel will also explain procedures related to your questions.

Who Needs a CDL?

Any resident who intends to operate:

- ✓ VEHICLES:
 - Having a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of 26,001 pounds or more.
- ✓ COMBINATION VEHICLES:
 - Towing a trailer or other vehicles with a GVWR of 10,001 pounds or more with a gross combination weight rating of 26,001 pounds or more.
- ✓ ANY VEHICLES:
 - Designed to transport 16 or more people (including the driver)
 - Carrying hazardous materials in amounts requiring placards.

Gross Vehicle Weight Rating (GVWR) is the recommended maximum total weight of the vehicle and load as designated by the vehicle manufacturer. The GVWR label is usually found on the driver side door post of the power unit and on or near the front of the trailer. The GVWR should not be confused with the elected GVW which is declared by the vehicle owner for registration purposes.

Gross Combination Weight Rating (GCWR) means the value specified by the manufacturer as the maximum loaded weight of a combination vehicle. In the absence of a label, the GCWR will be calculated by adding the GVWR of the power unit to the GVWR of the vehicle(s) or trailer(s) being towed.

What Are the Driving Record Eligibility Requirements?

Before a person may apply for an original CDL, they must qualify for the CDL based on their driver record. Any of the following will disqualify a person from applying for a CDL:

- ✓ The inability to make required certifications on the CDL Certification Form (BFS-103). See Appendix A.
- ✓ Having a license from more than one state.
- ✓ An active Michigan or out-state suspension, revocation, denial, or cancellation of a person's driving privilege. The license action must be resolved before a person can apply for an original CDL.

Any active suspension must be terminated before a person may apply for a CDL.

- ✓ A suspension or revocation in the 36 months immediately preceding application.

NOTE: Suspensions for, Failure to Appear in Court (FAC), Failure to Comply with a Court Judgment (FCJ), failure to appear for a Driver Assessment re-examination, financial responsibility, non-sufficient funds checks, and a suspension or revocation for a temporary medical condition will not disqualify an applicant for a CDL.

- ✓ Conviction of any six-point violation in the 24 months immediately preceding application. Conviction for operating a commercial motor vehicle while impaired in the 24 months immediately preceding application.

How Old Must I Be To Obtain a CDL?

You must be age 21 to drive a commercial motor vehicle across state lines (interstate). You may drive a commercial motor vehicle in Michigan (intrastate) at age 18; except to transport hazardous materials in a quantity that requires the vehicle be marked or placarded, you must be age 21 or older.

What are the Driver Qualification Requirements for the CDL?

Unless exempt, you must comply with the federal commercial driver qualification requirements, including the medical/physical qualifications found in the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, 49 CFR Part 391 — Qualifications of Drivers. This includes drivers who operate commercial vehicles only in Michigan. When applying for your CDL, you will sign a certification form (BFS -103 — see Appendix A) that states you meet these requirements before receiving your CDL. Before taking any CDL driver skills tests, you must provide a valid Medical Examiner's Certificate (commonly known as a DOT card) or medical waiver to your examiner allowing you to operate your truck or bus. Ask your employer about these medical/physical and other driver qualification requirements.

How Can I Get Additional Information on Medical/Physical Requirements?

What Type of CDL Do I Need?

A Michigan resident needs a CDL with the appropriate group designation to operate the following vehicles:

✓ GROUP A:

- Any combination of vehicles with a gross combination weight rating (GCWR) of 26,001 pounds or more, provided the gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of the vehicle(s) being towed is 10,001 pounds or more.

A Group A endorsement will allow a driver to operate a Group B or Group C vehicle provided he/she possess required endorsement(s).

✓ GROUP B:

- Any single vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of 26,001 pounds or more, or, any such vehicle, towing a vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of 10,000 pounds or less.

A Group B endorsement will allow a driver to operate a Group C vehicle provided he/she possess the required endorsement(s).

✓ GROUP C

Any single vehicle with a GVWR of 26,001 pounds or less, or combination of vehicles and the GVWR of the vehicle being towed is 10,000 pounds or less designed to:

- Transport 16 or more persons (including the driver).
- Transport hazardous materials in amounts requiring placards.

What Endorsements Do I Need?

In addition to the appropriate CDL vehicle group designation, endorsements are required to operate the following:

- ✓ T DOUBLE or TRIPLE TRAILERS: (Triple trailer combinations are not permitted in Michigan).
- ✓ P PASSENGER: For vehicles which are designed to carry 16 or more people (including the driver).
- ✓ N TANK: For vehicles designed to haul liquids or liquefied gases in bulk in permanently mounted cargo tanks rated at 119 gallons or more or portable cargo tanks rated at 1,000 gallons or more.
- ✓ HAZARDOUS MATERIALS: To carry hazardous materials in amounts requiring placards.
- ✓ X Combined TANK and HAZARDOUS MATERIAL Endorsements - When an applicant adds both the tank and hazardous materials endorsements to their driver license.
- ✓ S SCHOOL BUS for commercial motor vehicles used to transport pre-primary, primary, or secondary school students from home to school, school to home, or to and from school sponsored events.

Are There CDL Exemptions?

The following people do NOT need a Commercial Driver License (CDL):

- ✓ ACTIVE DUTY MILITARY: Operating military vehicles with military licenses (includes National Guard).
- ✓ POLICE AND FIREFIGHTERS: Operating authorized emergency vehicles.
- ✓ FARMERS: Operating vehicles within a 150 mile radius of their farm.
 - An F-endorsement is needed by farmers operating combination vehicles whose towing vehicle has a GVWR of 26,001 pounds or more. A knowledge test, but no skills test, is required to obtain the F-endorsement. The F-endorsement is NOT a CDL.
 - Farmers who carry hazardous materials in amounts requiring placards while operating combination vehicles whose towing vehicle has a GVWR of 26,001 pounds or more, or a single vehicle with a GVWR of 26,001 pounds or more, need a CDL with a hazardous materials endorsement.
- ✓ INDIVIDUALS: Operating motor homes or other vehicles used exclusively to transport personal possessions or family members, for non-business purposes.

How Do I Obtain a CDL?

When ready to apply for your first CDL, come to a local Secretary of State branch office to:

- ✓ Show your driver license.
- ✓ Show proof of Social Security number (Social Security card, payroll check stub, W-2 Form).
- ✓ Fill out the CDL Certification form (BFS-103), which includes a statement certifying that you meet the commercial driver medical qualifications. If you have had any change in your physical condition since your last driver license renewal, which may affect your ability to drive, you may need a special form from the branch office for your physician to fill out before you can apply for your license.
- ✓ Meet driver eligibility requirements as determined by branch office personnel. (See page v.)
- ✓ Pass the required knowledge and vision tests. You must pass all required knowledge tests to obtain a CDL Temporary Instruction Permit (TIP). This allows you to practice driving under supervision of a driver who has a CDL for the type of vehicle you are operating. A CDL TIP is also required for taking the CDL skills tests.
- ✓ Pay your CDL Group Designation and Endorsement fees.
- ✓ Schedule and take your CDL skills test through an approved third party driver skills test organization certified to administer the CDL skills test. These organizations are public and private agencies authorized only by the state to conduct driver skills tests.
- ✓ After passing your CDL skills test, you will:
 - Receive a Michigan Department of State Driver Skills Test Certificate (TPT-010) only from the approved third party driver skills test organization.
 - Take the skills test certificate directly to a SOS branch office to receive your full privilege CDL.
 - Your certificate is valid for one (1) year from date of issuance. After one year, you must take all CDL tests again.
 - Pay a correction fee to add the CDL privileges to your license and obtain your temporary CDL.
 - Receive your photo CDL in the mail within about ten (10) business days.

What Tests Do I Need To Take?

All drivers applying for their original (first) commercial driver license must take and pass the appropriate CDL knowledge (written) tests and a skills test.

Drivers with a CDL from another state must always take the H-Hazardous Materials endorsement written test to keep the H-endorsement. Transferring drivers must also pass the appropriate knowledge tests when changing their group designator, removing restrictions or adding endorsements. They may also need to take the CDL skills tests if upgrading their group designator, removing restrictions or adding a passenger (P) or school bus (S) endorsement to their CDL.

Knowledge Tests

You will take one or more knowledge tests. The following chart summarizes the type of tests and number of questions you are required to pass depending on the type of vehicle you drive and the type of cargo you haul. It is recommended that you study this manual very carefully as it contains the information you need to pass the CDL tests. SEE APPENDIX B FOR SAMPLE TEST QUESTIONS.

CDL TESTS
CDL TESTS GROUP	KNOWLEDGE TESTS	SKILLS TESTS
Group A	70 Questions	Yes
Group B	50 Questions	Yes
Group C	50 Questions	Yes
	* This includes a 20-question combination vehicle test.
ENDORSEMENTS	KNOWLEDGE TESTS	SKILLS TEST
T – Double Trailer	20 Questions	No
P – Passenger	20 Questions	Yes
S – School Bus	20 Questions	Yes
N – Tank Vehicles	20 Questions	No
H – Hazardous Materials	30 Questions	No
AIR BRAKES TEST
If you want to be licensed to drive vehicles with air brakes, you must pass a 25-question air brake knowledge test. The vehicle you use for the skills test must be equipped with air brakes. If either of these conditions has not been met, you will be restricted from operating vehicles with air brakes.

All CDL knowledge tests are administered in written form. A minimum passing score of 80% is required to pass each test. If you have limited reading skills, you may request to take the oral tests which are available on audiocassettes for all the tests except the hazardous materials and school bus endorsement tests. Anyone applying for the H-Hazardous Materials and/or S- School Bus endorsement must pass a written knowledge test.

CDL Skills Test

You will also need to pass the CDL skills test which includes three parts:

- ✓ A vehicle inspection test to measure your ability to perform a vehicle safety check. A Vehicle Inspection Memory Aid is available on the last page of this manual [Appendix C] and may be used during the test.
- ✓ An off-street basic control skills test.
- ✓ An on-street driving test.

All three parts are conducted during the same testing session, in the order listed above. Each portion must be passed before continuing on to the next. A failure of any segment terminates testing. On subsequent attempts, you must always start with the vehicle inspection regardless of which part you previously failed. You are allowed one (1) attempt per day. The Secretary of State has the right to randomly retest anyone tested by a third party tester.

You may contact your local Secretary of State branch office or visit the Department website at www.michigan.gov/sos for information about approved third party testing sites in your area.

- ✓ You must supply an empty vehicle with a GVWR representative of the type you plan to drive (including a trailer, if required).
- ✓ The vehicle must be equipped with at least two permanently mounted seats for yourself and the examiner. Safety belts are also required for both the driver and examiner (except for the examiner on buses).
- ✓ Applicants applying for the P-Passenger endorsement must pass the skills test in a vehicle with a seating capacity of 16 or more passengers, including the driver.
- ✓ You must show valid registration and proof of insurance for your test vehicle.
- ✓ You must also be able to furnish the third party organization with your Michigan photo driver license, CDL Temporary Instruction Permit (TIP), and Medical Examiner's Certificate (DOT card, School Bus card) or medical waiver.

See Sections 11, 12 and 13 at the end of this manual for more information about the CDL skills tests and information regarding the third party driver skills testing program.

Adding CDL Privileges

Adding CDL privileges, including adding a passenger endorsement, removing a restriction, and changing a lower group designation to a higher group designation, requires new skills tests in the appropriate vehicle. These are considered new CDLs and are charged accordingly, along with a correction fee.

What CDL Restrictions Could I Receive?

- ✓ Restriction Code 28 —“CDL not valid for operating vehicles equipped with air brakes.” If you do not pass the air brake knowledge test, or if the vehicle you use for the CDL skills tests is not equipped with air brakes, you will be restricted from operating vehicles with air brakes.
- ✓ Restriction Code 29 — “CDL-P or S endorsement valid in Group B or C vehicles only.”
Adding a P-Passenger endorsement to your current Group A vehicle group designation and completing the CDL skills test in a group B bus, will limit the operation of buses to Group B and C buses. If you are adding the P-Passenger and S-School Bus endorsement to your current Group A designation and completing the CDL tests in a school bus, will limit the operation of buses to Group B or C school buses.

What CDL Restrictions Could I Receive? (continued)

✓ Restriction Code 30 - “CDL-P or S endorsement valid in Group C vehicles only.”

Adding a P-Passenger endorsement to your current Group A or B vehicle group designation and completing your CDL skills test in a Group C bus, will limit the P-Passenger endorsement to operation of a Group C bus. Adding a P-Passenger and S-School Bus endorsement to your current Group A or B vehicle group designation and completing your CDL skills test in a school bus, will limit the P-Passenger and S-School Bus endorsement to operation of Group C school buses.

✓ SEASONAL RESTRICTED CDL

A special seasonal restricted CDL is available for agri-business employees operating Group B and C vehicles on routes within 150 miles from the place of business. Buses and school buses cannot be operated with this restricted license. Although CDL knowledge and skills tests are not required, applicants must have held a valid driver license for at least one year and possess a clean driving record for the three-year period preceding application for the seasonal CDL.

This limited CDL must be applied for each calendar year. Within a one-year period, applicants can choose to have the CDL valid for 180 days from date of issue or valid for the seasonal periods from April 2 through June 30 and September 2 through November 30. The restricted CDL permits the driver to transport the following limited amounts of hazardous materials without the H or X endorsements.

- Diesel motor fuel in quantities of 1,000 gallons or less.
- Liquid fertilizers in quantities of 3,000 gallons or less.
- Solid fertilizers that are not transported with any organic substance.

What About Serious Traffic Violation Convictions While Driving a CMV?

If you are convicted of certain traffic offenses while operating a commercial motor vehicle (CMV), you will be subject to more severe penalties, which may result in the suspension or revocation of your CDL. Your operator/chauffeur license may also be affected, depending on the severity of the traffic offense.

Any traffic conviction in a non-commercial motor vehicle that results in a suspension or revocation of your operator/chauffeur license, will also apply to your CDL.

The following information outlines the various penalties for certain traffic violation convictions, railroad crossing convictions and drug or alcohol-related convictions committed while operating a CMV and for certain convictions, while operating a non-commercial motor vehicle.

What About Serious Alcohol Violations While Operating a CMV?

Out-of-service

You will be placed out-of-service for 24 hours if you:

- ✓ Refuse to take a preliminary breath test (PBT);
- ✓ Consume alcohol within four hours prior to operating a CMV;
- ✓ Consume alcohol while operating a CMV; or
- ✓ Have a bodily alcohol content (BAC) of .015 grams or more per 100 milliliters of blood, per 210 liters of breath, or per 67 milliliters of urine.

Other Alcohol Violations

If you have consumed too much alcohol, you can be charged with:

- ✓ Operating While Intoxicated.
- ✓ Operating While Impaired by Liquor
- ✓ Operating with a BAC of .04 < .08 grams per 100 milliliters of blood, per 210 liters of breath, or per 67 milliliters of urine.
- ✓ OUIL, OWI or UBAL causing death or serious injury.
- ✓ You may be charged with operating under the influence, or operating while impaired by Controlled Substances.

If you refuse to submit to a chemical test (implied Consent)* or are convicted of any of the alcohol offenses listed above, your CDL will be:

- ✓ Suspended for one year for a first offense, or three years if transporting hazardous materials; and
- ✓ Revoked for a minimum of ten years for a second or third offense.

Note: *Implied Consent means that any person who holds a CDL is considered to have agreed to such testing. Consent is implied by driving a motor vehicle.

Your operator/chauffeur license may also be suspended or revoked and points may be added to your driving record.

What are the CDL Consequences for Violations Committed While Operating Non-Commercial Vehicles?

Your CDL is a special privilege attached to your operator or chauffeur license. Therefore, if, while operating a non-commercial motor vehicle (including your personal vehicle), you are convicted of a traffic violation that suspends or revokes your operator or chauffeur license, it will also suspend or revoke your CDL.

The length of the suspension or revocation varies from 90 days to five years depending on what the current conviction is and the number and type of convictions on your driver record at the time of the most current conviction. Below is a partial list of convictions. You may find complete conviction information in the Michigan Vehicle Code.

- ✓ Refusal to submit to a chemical test (Michigan's Implied Consent law).
- ✓ Operating under the influence of liquor or controlled substance.
- ✓ Operating while impaired by liquor or controlled substance.
- ✓ Under 21 with a bodily alcohol content $.02 < .08$.

Points will be added to your driving record. If you accumulate a total of 12 or more points within a two-year period from the conviction date of your most current conviction, you may be required to appear at a Driver Assessment re-examination to determine if a suspension or revocation will be issued due to the driving activities on your driver record..

What are the CMV Operator's Responsibilities Regarding Notification of Convictions and Suspensions?

You must notify your employer in writing of:

- ✓ Traffic violations (other than a parking ticket) committed in any motor vehicle within 30 days of conviction. The notification must include:
 - Your full name and signature.
 - Driver license number.
 - Date of conviction.
 - Specific violation(s) committed.
 - Whether the violation was in a CMV.
 - The location of the violation.

You should also notify your employer in writing of:

- ✓ Any driver license suspension, revocation, cancellation, lost privilege or disqualification by the end of the business day following the day you receive notice of the action.
 - ✓ Any out-of-service order within twenty-four hours.

How Do I Renew My CDL?

Can I Renew My CDL By Mail?

A CDL must be renewed every four years along with a base operator or chauffeur license.

CDL applicants must go to a Secretary of State branch office to apply for an original CDL, or, to renew a CDL. A BFS-103 CDL Certification form must be completed in order to renew a CDL license. At that time the Secretary of State Branch office must complete an electronic check of your driver history through both State and National computer records. If the state and national checks are clear, you will be required to take a vision test. If the commercial driver portion of your license has expired for 1 or more years, you will be required to take both the vision and knowledge tests.

If the state or national check reflects your driving privilege is suspended, revoked, canceled or denied, for any reason, you cannot apply for an original, or renew a CDL, until the suspension, revocation, cancellation or denial has been cleared.

What Tests Do I Need to Take to Renew My CDL?

Unless you have a hazardous materials endorsement, no other tests will be required to renew your CDL.

If you currently have a hazardous materials endorsement on your CDL (H or X), you will be required to take the hazardous materials endorsement test again, and pass it with a score of 80% or higher, to renew the endorsement. The hazardous materials endorsement test is a written knowledge test consisting of 30 multiple-choice questions. An oral test for this endorsement is not permitted. All information needed to pass this test is in this manual.

Unless you are adding a CDL privilege or your CDL privilege has expired a year or more, no other CDL knowledge or skills tests will be required to renew your current CDL.

What Happens If I Fail the Hazardous Materials Endorsement Test?

You may continue using your CDL and hazardous materials endorsement until your driver license expires (your birthday). If you fail to pass the hazardous materials endorsement test, you may take it again as often as you wish to try to pass it. If your driver license has not expired, you will be encouraged to delay its renewal for as long as possible while trying to pass the hazardous materials endorsement exam.

However, if your CDL is about to expire, you may want to renew it without the hazardous materials endorsement. This will allow you to continue to operate private and commercial motor vehicles, but not allowed to transport hazardous materials that require placards. If you pass the hazardous materials endorsement test, after you renewed your driver license, you may add the hazardous materials endorsement to your CDL by paying an $18.00 correction fee, plus, a $5.00 endorsement fee.

What Else Do I Need to Know?

Do I Need a Chauffeur License?

A chauffeur base license is required when a person is:

- ✓ Employed for the principal purpose of operating a motor vehicle or combination of vehicles with a GVWR or GCWR or GVW or GCW of 10,000 pounds or more.
- ✓ Operating a motor vehicle as a carrier of passengers or as a common or contract carrier of property.
- ✓ Operating a bus, school bus, taxi or limousine.
- ✓ Drivers operating vehicles singly or in combination with a GVW, GVWR, GCW or GCWR of 10,000 pounds or more must meet the commercial driver medical requirements (including possession of the appropriate medical card or medical waiver).

If required, the CDL group designator and CDL endorsements are added to the chauffeur base license.

What is Required to Convert My Out-of-State CDL to a Michigan CDL?

When moving to Michigan from another state, you must apply for a Michigan CDL to operate commercial vehicles. To obtain a Michigan CDL, you must visit a Secretary of State branch office and:

- ✓ Surrender your out-of-state CDL.
- ✓ Complete a computer check of your eligibility status through national and state records. If your driving privilege is suspended, revoked, denied or cancelled for any reason in any other state, you cannot receive your Michigan CDL until the out-of-state licensing issue(s) are resolved. The driving record check must be completed by the branch office before your CDL can be issued.
- ✓ Pass the vision test.

What is Required to Convert My Out-of-State CDL to a Michigan CDL? (continued)

- ✓ Take and pass the appropriate Michigan CDL written tests if you are upgrading your group designator, adding endorsements or removing an air brake restriction. To keep your H-Hazardous Materials endorsement, you must always take and pass the Hazmat written test. Otherwise, written tests are not required if you are not upgrading your CDL.
- ✓ Take and pass the Michigan CDL skills test if you are upgrading your group designator, adding the P-Passenger endorsement or removing a CDL limitation such as the air brake restriction. If a CDL skills test is required, you must wait until you receive your photo Michigan base license (operator or chauffeur) to take the test. Your Michigan photo driver license must be presented to the third party driver skills test organization before your CDL skills test can be administered. Generally, your regular driver license (operator or chauffeur) will be mailed to you within ten (10) days.
- ✓ Receive your Michigan CDL upon proper and successful completion of any necessary CDL tests and payment of fees.

Do “Incidental” Drivers Need a CDL?

Unless exempt, any driver who operates a commercial motor vehicle on roads or highways that are accessible to the public, must have a CDL regardless of the distance driven or amount of driving time.
